1. Insert the retaining lip of the door handle guard under the inside contour of the forward end of the door handle as shown above.

2. Slide the long narrow end of the guard down against the door handle. Be careful not to scratch the door finish.

3. Using the guard as a template, scribe the outline of the screw hole.

4. Remove the guard. Apply the tape to the handle around the area where the hole will be drilled to avoid damage to the chrome. Centerpunch and drill a 1/8” hole in the door.

5. Reinstall the guard in position and secure it in place with one of the taping screws provided.

6. Repeat this procedure on the remaining doors.
